

How to change your default e-mail program in Linux (Ubuntu)

Step 1. Navigate to System \ Preferences \ Preferred Applications.

Step 2. Here you can specify which application you want to use for web or email links. For instance, if you are using Thunderbird for email instead of evolution, you can change that setting here.

Done!